

1. Opening (Build Trust Quickly)

“Hi, am I speaking to [Client Name]?”

My name is [Your Name] from [Company Name]. This call is just to quickly help you and your family stay financially protected in case of unexpected funeral costs. Do you have a minute?”

(If yes → continue. If hesitant → reassure)

“It'll only take a minute, and I'll keep it simple.”

2. Engagement Question (Get Them Talking)

“Can I ask—have you already made any plans to cover funeral expenses for yourself or your family?”

If YES:

“That's great—you're already thinking ahead. Many people I speak to just want to make sure they're not overpaying or that their cover is enough.”

If NO:

“You're not alone—most people haven't yet, and that's exactly why I'm calling. Funeral costs can be quite high and unexpected.”

3. Problem + Emotional Hook

“The reality is, funerals today can cost thousands, and families often struggle to pay upfront.

Our goal is to make sure your loved ones don't have to carry that burden during an already difficult time.”

4. Value Proposition (Simple & Clear)

“With our funeral cover:

- Your family gets a cash payout within 24–48 hours
- You can cover yourself and your loved ones
- Premiums are affordable and fixed
- No complicated medical tests”

5. Tailoring Based on Age

Younger Clients (18–40)

“Most younger clients take this as a way to protect their parents or dependents early—while premiums are still low. It's a smart financial move that locks in affordability.”

Older Clients (40+)

“Many of our clients your age take this to make sure everything is taken care of, so their family doesn't have to worry or contribute financially when the time comes.”

6. Qualifying Questions

“Just so I can give you the best option:

- How many people would you like to cover?
- Are you mainly looking to cover yourself, or your family as well?”

7. Offer Presentation

“Based on that, we can get you covered from as little as [Price] per month, depending on the level of cover you choose.”

(Pause and let that sink in)

8. Handle Common Objections

“I can't afford it”

“I understand—many people feel that way at first. That's why we have flexible options starting very low, just to make sure you at least have some cover in place.”

“I'll think about it”

“That's fair—but just keep in mind, the sooner you start, the lower your premium stays. Would it help if I showed you the most affordable option first?”

“I already have cover”

“That's great. Many of our clients still add a small additional policy to make sure everything is fully covered.”

9. Close (Soft but Direct)

“Let's get you protected today—it only takes a few minutes to set up.

I'll just confirm a few details and we can get your cover started immediately.”

10. Confirmation & Wrap-Up

“Perfect, you're now covered. Your policy details will be sent to you via [SMS/Email].

If you ever have questions, we're always here to help.”

Tips for Success

- Speak calmly and respectfully (this is a sensitive topic)
- Focus on family protection, not death
- Keep it simple and human, not overly scripted
- Listen more than you talk
